FORUM INTRODUCTION

The Forum is jointly organized by Peter F. Drucker Academy and The Hong Kong Management Association. It is a generic programme suitable for senior executives and not targeted to any particular industry or trade. It aims to provide senior executives with a systematic understanding of Peter Drucker's theory and practice of management and leadership and how they could utilize Drucker's practices into their business effectively.

Peter F. Drucker

Dr Peter F. Drucker was a highly reputed management visionary of the modern age, widely regarded as the "father of modern management" and "the guru of gurus". His tremendous contributions to modern management as well as his innovative and forward-looking management ideas and practice have been commonly recognized in the world. In 2002, when conferred on him the Presidential Medal of Freedom, US President George W. Bush said: "Peter Drucker's prolific writings have greatly benefited our nation and significantly influenced the shape of our society and the modern business world. The United States honors his extraordinary accomplishments."

He left 39 books and countless scholarly and popular articles in his 65 years of career, of which 36 were carried in Harvard Business Review and seven won the McKinsey Award. It was a social enterprise established solely for the research and promotion of management insights of Dr Drucker. In 2005, Dr Drucker personally authorized Bright China to use the name "Peter F. Drucker Academy" in China. After his death, the Drucker family and foundation continued to give full support to Bright China. In 2006, the name of BCMI was officially changed to "Peter F. Drucker Academy" ("DA"). DA continues its mission to impart the Drucker legacy to Chinese knowledge workers and facilitate their study and practice of Drucker's management principles. In the same year, DA was registered in Hong Kong as a non-profit organization, an extension of Beijing's DA with identical mission.
